

BOOK CLUB DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

STARS IN THE NIGHT

The glamour and glitz of 1942 Hollywood meet Murder on the Orient Express.

You can use these questions to guide your conversation of the book.

- 1) Audra is a lawyer, getting her foot in the door back at the firm she works at in Indianapolis. Once flying out to find her sister, she knows she may be giving up her first big case if she doesn't make it back in time. Do you think she made the right decision?
- 2) Audra decides to stay and do whatever it takes to find the person responsible for her sister's death. She knows she will get more answers if she participates on the Caravan. Do you think she made the right choice? What would you do in her situation if it were your sibling?
- 3) While Audra is on the caravan she gets to know each of the celebrities better. Some are nice, and some seem standoffish. How would you have learned who they really are?
- 4) After a few unfortunate events occurred, Audra gets some time off the train and gets to relax at a hotel in Atlanta for a night. She enjoys exploring the area with Robert. Do you see a chance of true love between the two?
- 5) Someone comes very close to attacking Audra, but Robert saves the day. Do you think Robert was genuine in his efforts in trying to protect her?
- 6) The Hollywood actors and actresses' agent shows up to make sure everything is okay and that things will continue to go smoothly. Is there anything about this that struck you as strange? Do you feel he truly has compassion and wants to keep his stars safe?
- 7) Near the end it seems like something horrid is happening every day. What would you do if you were in Audra's position? Would you leave? Would you keep going?
